Vice-Speaker Knudsen Called House To Order

Backed up by the opinions of individual representatives and impressed with the importance of what he deemed to be the safe side of the fence, Vice-Speaker Knudsen called the House to order at a little after 11 o'clock this morning after that body had by vote on Saturday last, adjourned over until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The clerk was in his place and the roll was called, the following answering to their names: Messrs. Chillingworth, Damien, Gandall, Greenwell, Hala, Harris, Kaili, Kalama, Kanilo, Kealawa, Keilinoi, Nakaleka, Oili, Pali, Pulaa and Wright. Total, 16. There were several more of the members present but they went out into the corridors and indulged in a quiet smoke, refusing absolutely to answer to their names because they had adjourned over until tomorrow. The sergeant-at-arms was not sent out to gather them in. Had he done so, he probably would have met with disaster.

After the roll had been called, Representative Kaili of Kaial offered prayer, the regular chaplain not being on the scene. There were no comments from the chair; neither were there any from the members. Mr. Harris moved to adjourn and the motion carried.

Tomorrow forenoon when Speaker Beckley calls the House to order and the clerk begins to read the minutes of the preceding day, the members will probably be treating the record from the journal of the House in accordance with the orders of the presiding officer.

Mr. Beckley's contention is that the House had a perfect right to adjourn until tomorrow and that such being the case, anything such as the calling of the House to order this morning was irregular. Indeed, many of the members who answered to their names this morning, take the same stand as Speaker Beckley. They were present at meetings of the various island delegations and gave no great amount of thought to the matter of calling the House to order.

It is understood that Attorney General Andrews has already rendered an opinion to Governor Dole in which he

Senator McCandless

PROTESTS AGAINST

Lualualei Exchange

Senator L. L. McCandless, one of the parties interested in the Lualualei land exchange matter of a fortnight, has entered a written protest against this exchange being awarded to J. M. Dowsett, of the Waianae Sugar Company, on the ground that Mr. Dowsett was not an American citizen at the time the transfer was made by Henry E. Cooper, Superintendent of Public Works. He states in his protest that, under the circumstances, the second lowest bidder should be given the benefit of the exchange. Lacking that, the deal should be declared off and new bids called for.

When seen this morning, Mr. Cooper said that nothing had been decided on yet. He intended to refer the matter to the Attorney General immediately, for an opinion.

Mr. Dowsett was born in Hawaii and it is believed by many of those who have a knowledge of the facts, that he is an American citizen and has a right to all the benefits he may receive in the community where he makes his home. It is contended also that a Japanese or Chinese could have been given the Lualualei by way of exchange with the Government, without there being the slightest chance of an annulment of the agreement. If there ever was any question about Mr. Dowsett being an American citizen, he is certainly one now, for he took the oath before Judge Estee recently.

The Lualualei lands cover 3,600 acres and the exchange price agreed on was $32,000, which is four or five times the valuation. Land Commissioner Boyd was authorized to transfer the land in question to the Superintendent of Public Works for the purpose of making an exchange thereof for lands in Honolulu needed for public improvements.

ELKS MUST GET A NEW BASEMAN

Punahou Authorities Will Not Let Meyer Play Ball.

PERMISSION WAS GIVEN FOR FIRST GAME ONLY

CHANGES IN H. A. C. TEAM—LESLIE WILL PLAY BEHIND THE BAT—GLEASON ON FIRST.

The Elks will have to seek out a new man to play on third base in the game against the H. A. C.'s on Saturday next for President Griffiths and the trustees of the college will not allow Meyer to play on the grounds again. This is final and in the event of any attempt to use this man on third base, the head of the institution will undoubtedly exercise the prerogative vested in him by the terms of the agreement with the Baseball League—that of stopping the further playing of games on the grounds.

Previous to the beginning of the league season, it was decided that Meyer should not be allowed to play baseball on the Punahou grounds for good and sufficient reasons. This was a well-known fact.

The Elks had Meyer on their team and did not see how they could very well play Saturday's game against the Kamehamehas without him. There was no other man to put in his place and the match could certainly not have been played.

Realizing the predicament of the Elks team, two of the trustees interested in the success of baseball in the islands, went to President Griffiths and labored with him for two hours to allow Meyer to play just the one game on the campus. Consent was finally obtained, but the president and trustees came to a definite understanding that this would be the only game in which the player named could participate.

This matter was one of the points under discussion at the meeting of the baseball men last night, but no decision was arrived at. It is understood that some of the Elks are making quite a row about the decision of the trustees and president of the institution. The easiest way out of the thing is for the Elks to seek out a new third baseman and going ahead with the games of the season.

There was talk at the meeting on the part of some of the radicals, of postponing for a month the continuation of the games on account of the action against the Elks' third baseman, but the majority of those present were against any such proposition. To stop the season's games on account of one player would be the most foolish kind of child's play that could possibly be indulged in. The radicals would like to see the games stopped until the new field is ready.

The H. A. C. team will appear on the field Saturday afternoon with a pretty well shaken up team and if those who know the players and their work are any judges, the Honolulu have strengthened themselves very materially by the change.

Louis, who caught Joy last Saturday, will take second base, his old position, and his place behind the bat will be taken by Lieut. Sam Leslie of the mounted patrol. Pat Gleason, one of

AGIN' THE JURY SYSTEM

John Hanlon, the learned Dublin blacksmith and friend of Lord Charles Beresford, caused a slight commotion in Judge Robinson's court this morning. When the examination of the first witness in the Makua murder case had just begun, Hanlon arose in the rear part of the courtroom and started for the nearest open door. As he passed slowly along he turned and with gestures and gesticulations denounced the whole jury system. "I don't believe in the jury system at all. The jury system is all wrong." He kept audibly repeating these remarks until Bail, Sea, by direction of Judge Robinson, gently escorted him outside.

DENOUNCE HOODLUMS

In the Police Court this forenoon the cases of Matsumoto, Antonio Souza, Charles Ferreira, Willie Dias and Jno. Hollerson, charged with assault and battery with a weapon, were all continued, the cast of Matsumoto until next Tuesday, and those of the others until tomorrow.

INDICTED FOR BRIBERY

TAING KAI AND BAKER RESERVE THEIR PLEAS

There were four indictments returned by the grand jury yesterday, one of which still remained on the secret file in Judge Robinson's court at noon today. In the other cases the defendants were arraigned this morning and reserved their pleas until Saturday. Two of them are the alleged principals in the recent attempt to corrupt Deputy Attorney General Peters.

In the first of these cases the grand jurors present that Taing Kai, on the 10th day of May, 1903, "unlawfully, feloniously and corruptly, to one Emil Cornelius Peters, then and there being an executive officer of the Territory of Hawaii, to-wit: a Deputy Attorney General of the Territory of Hawaii, with intent in him the said Taing Kai thereby to influence him, the said Emil Cornelius Peters, in his acts as such Deputy Attorney General in proceeding that might by law come and be brought before him, the said Emil Cornelius Peters, in his capacity as said Deputy Attorney General, to-wit: criminal prosecutions by the Territory of Hawaii against the said Taing Kai and others associated with him, the said Taing Kai, whose names are to the grand jurors unknown, for the offense of maintaining and conducting at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, a lottery, known as paka pio, a sum of money, to-wit: the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, as a gift and gratuity and benefit did promise, contrary to the form of the statute in such case made and provided."

John Baker is indicted for the same offense as Taing Kai in identical phraseology.

Yim Quon is indicted for the forgery of a receipt for $40 from Lo You, otherwise Aloiau, to himself.

The H. A. C. players of last year, will play first base and Williams will go to third. En Sue, who showed up as one of the crack players in the winter league series, will play short. Mana will probably retire.

MURDER TRIAL NOW IN PROGRESS

Attorney Peters Relates Story of Tragedy To the Jury.

EMPANELING EASY IN ITS LAST STAGES

SURVEYOR DOVE THE FIRST WITNESS, OFFERS A PLAN OF THE PREMISES—THE EVIDENCE.

At 17 minutes to 11 o'clock this morning, A. G. M. Robertson for the defendant announced that the jury was satisfactory. This was after consultation of several minutes with Henry Hogan, associate counsel for the defense. Deputy Attorney General Peters, who had expressed satisfaction for the territory before the last previous challenge, echoed the statement. The following named twelve good men and true were thereupon sworn to try Patrick Murphy for the murder of Joe Perry at Makua, Island of Oahu, on the 13th of March, 1903:

Peter McDonald, Charles Girdler, George Roenitz, A. Q. Marcellino, Edmund Norrie, T. J. Quinn, E. C. Holstein, L. A. C. Parrish, George Milton, W. B. Jones, George K. Kala and W. T. Schmidt.

Mr. Peters opened the case to the jury, describing in detail the circumstances of the death of Perry. The defendant leaned forward in his chair, between his attorneys, and listened intently to the story that pointed to him as the wilful author of Perry's death.

It was related how Joe Perry had hitched a mule to a fence rail in front of Murphy's house and was fastening a blinder to the animal's head, when the report of a gun's discharge was heard by a man named Kalo, who stood near Perry. At the same instant Kalo saw Perry lying on the ground, with blood streaming from his head, and the mule also lying prostrate. Kalo called out to Murphy that Perry was "make" (dead) and Murphy, looking pale and agitated, came from the house. Murphy said as he looked down at the man and the mule, "The mule kicked him," and then told Kalo to notify Perry's family of his death and get them to remove the body. Further, he told Kalo to say nothing about the matter, also said he was going up on the mountain and, if he did not get any food, he would go to Kalo's house when he returned. Three witnesses would be produced who heard the report of the gun, one of whom would testify to having seen a cloud of smoke drift away from the front of Murphy's house.

C. V. E. Dove, surveyor, was the first witness called, and testified to a plan of the premises he had made to the order of His Sheriff Brown.

About sixty men obeyed the jury summons this morning, but only five names had to be drawn before a jury

The soldiers at Camp McKinley have been practicing with their rifles on the Diamond Head range for the past fortnight and it will be about six weeks yet before the work is completed. Some excellent scores have been made at 100, 200 and 300 yards. Some revolver practice may be indulged in by the officers later on.

The gunboat Yorktown will in all probability go out of commission upon her arrival in San Francisco in order to undergo repairs and a general overhauling. She has been in Asiatic waters for about five years.
